Richard L. Elsliger

630-932-9100

Civil litigation attorney with many years of experience in litigation and also trial work, Richard Elsliger has first chaired several jury trials to verdict with favorable results. He has taken hundreds of depositions and is comfortable handling cases both as a plaintiff attorney and also as a defense attorney. Richard Elsliger has also worked for various insurance companies over the years and is familiar with the inner workings of the insurance industry which makes his experience valuable when representing clients against insurance companies.

In his spare time, Richard Elsliger is a writer of music for piano and has written several Preludes. He also is an accomplished writer and has published several works of horror fiction on Amazon.
